Sudden Deaths.

Heart disease is by far the most frequent cause of sudden death, which in three out of four cases is unsuspected. The symptoms are not generally recognized. These are a habit of lying on the right side, effort breath, pain or distress in side, back or shoulder, irregular pulse, asthma, weak and hungry spells, wind in stomach, swelling of ankles or dropsy, oppression, dry cough and smothering. Dr. Miles' illustrated book on Heart Disease free at J. W. Gayle's, who sells and guarantees Dr. Miles' unequalled New Heart Cure, and his Restorative Nervine, which cures nervousness, headache, sleeplessness, effects of drinking, etc. It contains no opiates. 8

Happy Creek.

Mrs. Mary Allison, who has been very ill for some time, we are glad to say is much better at this writing.

Mrs. Elton Phillips is very ill with pneumonia at the present.

Mr. Stephen Harrod and wife visited Mr. Henry Allison and family on Saturday night last.

Mr. Willis Rodgers and wife and little daughter, Myrtle, visited Mr. Henry Huette and family on Sunday last.

Died—November 10th, 1891, Miss Laura Pulliam, daughter of George W. Pulliam, with consumption, aged 13 years. She was an obedient, conscientious and affectionate little girl, and may her parent not mourn as those without hope, but may they prepare to meet her in a better world. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. A. Peters, taking for his text "Therefore be ye ready, for in such an hour as you know not the Son of Man cometh."

Startling Facts.

The American people are rapidly becoming a race of nervous wrecks, and the following suggests the best remedy: Alphonso Hempling, of Butler, Pa., swears that when his son was speechless from St. Vitus dance Dr. Miles' great Restorative Nervine cured him. Mrs. J. R. Miller, of Valparaiso, and J. D. Taylor, of Logansport, Ind., each gained 20 pounds from taking it. Mrs. H. A. Gardner, of Vintola, Ind., was cured of 40 or 50 convulsions a day, and much headache, dizziness, headache and nervous prostration by one bottle. Trial bottles, and fine book of marvelous cures free at J. W. Gayle's, who recommends and guarantees this unequalled remedy. 3

Millville.

We are having winter weather.

Good many of our people took advantage of the last few cold days and killed hogs.

Mrs. Dr. Reddish, of Somerset, and Mrs. Will Haydon, of Lexington, attended the Wilson-Petty wedding last week.

There was preaching at the Baptist Church Sunday morning.

Mr. W. T. Shy, who has been quite sick with pneumonia, we are glad to report much better.

Mrs. Hite Mitchell is quite sick at home near here.

Miss Lizzie Darnell has returned home after a visit of several weeks to Mrs. W. W. Darnell.

Married, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Will Petty, on Tuesday last, Mr. George Wilson and Miss Lena Petty. The attendants were Miss A. May Cromwell, of Jett Station and Mr. Levy Johnson, of near Graham's Distillery. The bridal party left on the 10:30 train for Somerset, Kentucky.

Madam Rumor reports several weddings in the near future, one of our boys near "Old Taylor" and a young lady of the "Old Stone" neighborhood. JACK AND JILL.

Strength and Health.

If you are not feeling strong and healthy, try Electric Bitters. If "LaGrippe" has left you weak and weary, use Electric Bitters. This remedy acts directly on Liver, Stomach and Kidneys, gently aiding those organs to perform their functions. If you are afflicted with Sick Headache, you will find speedy and permanent relief by taking Electric Bitters. One trial will convince you that this is the remedy you need. Large bottles only 50c. at PHIL. CARPENTER'S Drug Store. 6

Among the Colored Citizens.

There was a Republican meeting held on the South Side last Tuesday night at the Northern Methodist Church, and the house was crowded. The following gentlemen from the North Side made short speeches: Jerome Weitzel, R. H. Taylor, Rev. E.

Royal Baking Powder Has no Equal.

The Royal Baking Powder will make sweeter, lighter, finer-flavored and more wholesome bread, biscuit and cake than any other leavening agent. It is of higher strength, and therefore goes further in work and is more economical. All government and scientific tests go to show this. Royal Baking Powder as a leavening agent is absolutely without an equal.

RUSH MEDICAL COLLEGE, CHICAGO.

"As the result of my tests I find the Royal Baking Powder superior to all the others in every respect. It is entirely free from all adulteration and unwholesome impurity, and in baking it gives off a greater volume of leavening gas than any other powder. It is therefore not only the purest but also the strongest powder with which I am acquainted."

"WALTER S. HAINES, M. D.," Prof. of Chemistry.

CHICAGO COLLEGE OF PHARMACY.

"The Royal Baking Powder, which tests the highest in strength, is free from lime, alum, lime phosphates or other adulterations. Its superlative purity, the entire wholesomeness of its ingredients, the scientific manner in which they are combined, together with its much greater strength, make the Royal unquestionably superior to any other baking powder."

"H. D. GARRISON," Prof. of Chemistry.

Evans, Edward Lane and others. The speakers were all good and we hope that they had the desired effect.

The Educational Association held their meeting last night and a very pleasant time was had. The paper prepared by the editor we were unable to hear, owing to the lateness of the hour. However, the Association is a very successful one, thanks to the officers of the Association. They hold their regular meeting once a month.

It is reported that one of our school teachers is to wed another teacher, and that they do not teach forty miles away from each other.

The Literary Society will hold their meeting at the First Independent Baptist Church, and a very interesting programme for the meeting has been prepared. The public is invited.

Misses Allen and Seals, of Lexington, were in the city during last week visiting Miss Ophelia Price.

The entertainment given by the Camp Thanksgiving drew one of those old fashioned crowds that go out for fun, and it was enjoyed as Thanksgiving was well spent by all.

Miss Lucy Dillman, of Louisville, is visiting Miss Martha Williams on the South Side.

Miss Lawson, of Eminence, was the guest of Miss Ellis this week.

Miss Kenier was the guest of Miss Emma Harris this week.

We appeal to the colored voters to go to the polls early to-day and cast their votes for the Republican nominee. Do not lay around to see if some one will pay you for your vote.

The Powder Horn Club gave a delightful entertainment at the U. B. F. Hall on Thanksgiving night. Quite a pleasant time was had.

To the Colored Voters:

The colored citizens are called upon to-day to vote for a Republican candidate for Mayor—a thing unknown in the political history of Frankfort. Victory or defeat, colored men, you must bear the responsibility. Now we appeal to you as free men and citizens to allow no one to approach you for the purpose of purchasing your suffrage. And we also appeal to the old and young men among us to rally at the polls early this morning to advocate a cause of which you should be proud. Now that we have gone into a convention and named a true Republican, and a man whose character is unblemished, for once, gentlemen, I say, go to the polls and cast your vote for the Republican nominee, Valentine Berberich.

A man who has practiced medicine for 40 years, ought to know salt from sugar; read what he says:

Toledo, O., Jan. 10, 1887.
Messrs. F. J. Cheney & Co.—Gentlemen—I have been in the general practice of medicine for most 40 years, and would say that in all my practice and experience have never seen a preparation that I could prescribe with as much confidence of success as I can Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by you. Have prescribed it a great many times and its effect is wonderful, and would say in conclusion that I have tried it in a case of Catarrh that it would not cure, if they would take it according to directions.

Yours truly,
L. L. GORSUCH, M. D.
Office, 215 Summit St.
We will give $100 for any case of Catarrh that can not be cured with Hall's Catarrh Cure. Taken internally.

Death of Judge Parsons.

Judge Robert R. Parsons, member of the Council from the first ward, died at his home on Short street, after an illness of only a few days with asthma. Thursday afternoon.

The deceased was a tailor by trade, came to this city when quite a young man and for many years was an employe of the firm of Gillespie & Hoffer. When the war broke out he entered the Confederate army and served to the close of the war in the celebrated Orphan Brigade. At the close of the war he returned to this city and ever since has quietly followed his trade. In 1874 he was elected Police Judge of the city but resigned after serving only a few months.

Being of a literary turn of mind he devoted all his spare time to study and few men in this section were better read than he.

He was a member of the Masonic fraternity and had taken all the degrees in the York Rite, few men being better posted in the work and history of the order than he.

Last December he was elected one of the three representatives of the First ward in the City Council, and held the position at the time of his death.

He was a devoted son, kind and affectionate husband and father and a good citizen.

He leaves a widow and two children to mourn his loss.

The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Episcopal Church and the remains will be interred with Masonic honors.

Special Attention.

Everybody is invited to look through our Holiday goods next Monday, when we will display the handsomest goods ever shown in Frankfort.

Accidentally Shot.

Mr. Thos. Averill, the popular drug clerk, was hunting in Anderson county Thursday, with a few friends, and when ready to return home he put his gun in the buggy. (He didn't know it was loaded). He got out once to shoot at a bird, pulling the gun after him, and in some way the weapon was discharged, the charge taking effect in Mr. Averill's left thigh, inflicting a painful wound. He is getting along very well at present, but it will be some time before he will be out again.

Entertained.

A card party was given by Mr. and Mrs. J. G. McLean, at their residence on the South Side Thursday evening, in honor of their guest, Miss Annie McLean, of Knoxville, Tenn. The prizes were very handsome and were won by Miss Annie Headley and Mr. E. Haynes Taylor. A delightful supper was served about one o'clock.

LeCompte & Gayle Co. have their Holiday opening Monday. Everybody invited. 13-1t

Two Attempts.

Burglars made an attempt to enter Col. C. Y. Wilson's residence on the South Side Wednesday night but were frightened off by his daughter, who fired upon them with a pistol. They were also frightened away from Mr. Wm. H. Newhall's residence.

Scattering Toys.

A large crowd of men and boys was gathered in front of the confectionary establishment of Mr. John B. Weitzel on Thursday night, and a quantity of toys were thrown to them from an upper window. When any thing was thrown out there was a lively scramble for it in the mud and rain.

From Montana.

"It is a pleasure to inform you of the good that S. S. S. has done me. I have been suffering several years ago, which had never been eradicated from my system. Last November it broke out in the shape of salt-rheum on the back of my hands. I spent sixty dollars trying to be cured by the treatment of physicians and taking other medicines, and never found any benefit from any treatment until I commenced taking S. S. S. That cured me sound and well, and now I feel that I am a well man. I took only three bottles. I have recommended the medicine to a great many people, and find that it is benefiting them as well as myself."—S. S. BURRELL, Horse Plains, Montana.
S. S. S. never fails to relieve the worst cases of blood poison when taken by the directions, and before a vital organ has become impaired; so as to render a cure impossible. We mail a valuable book on the blood and skin to any who will apply for it. SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.

To the Citizens of Frankfort.

The time has arrived when social order, purity in government and the respect due to public opinion requires that Frankfort be redeemed from corrupt elections. Every citizen recognizes the damage done to the city by an open purchase of votes—like buying cattle in the market. It is a shame and a disgrace that even those who have indulged in the prevailing custom admit and confess.

It is not necessary that criminality or venality be indulged in. The question is, shall public office be put up for sale, or the unbought will of the majority rule? A majority that is only obtained by purchase of votes is without honor and without just title. Let there be a change. The co-operation of every good citizen, every taxpayer is asked to aid in the effort to secure a free expression of the public will in the selection of a Mayor.

The office is disfigured—it is honorable—it is important. There is presented to the voters a candidate of high business qualifications, of unquestioned integrity, of culture and fitness for the duties required. Mr. J. BEBERICH represents more. He is pledged to the movement to submit to the people the selection of Mayor by an unpurchased vote. What other candidates may do in the same way is open for action. Let the people decide.

Citizens! your active, earnest co-operation is asked to have an election free from the use of money or other corrupting influences. A just regard for the good name and honor of the city invites your assistance.

By order of the Executive Committee Garfield Club.

B. C. MILAM, Ch'n.
We quote the following from the Constitution of Kentucky: "Every person shall be disqualified from holding any office of trust or profit for the term for which he shall have been elected who shall be convicted of having given, or consented to the giving, offer or promise of any money or other thing of value to procure his election, or to influence the vote of any voter at such election."

TO THE COLORED VOTERS

We heartily endorse the movement to have an election free from the use of money or corrupt buying. We call upon every colored voter to use his influence to prevent it, and to help build up for our city a good name and for our people an honest reputation. Let all unite in the effort and thus remove the damage that has heretofore been done. Mr. BEBERICH, as candidate for Mayor, is pledged to an honest election, and we ask your co-operation in his behalf to bring about this great reform.

Supper and Bazaar.

On the 17th of this month the ladies of the Baptist Church, will have a bazaar in which many beautiful fancy articles will be for sale, also an elegant tea will be served at the same time in the chapel.

Treble and Bass.

"Twinkle, twinkle, little star, How I wonder what you are." In treble sweet piped Little Grace. "Catarrh, catarrh, catarrh, catarrh, What a horrid pest you are!" Groveled deep paps in lowest bass. When papa read this, he will learn how to get rid of the pest. By its mild, healing, antiseptic, and cleansing properties, Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures the worst cases. This infallible remedy does not, like the poisonous, irritating snuffs, "creams" and strong caustic solutions with which the public have been so long humbugged, simply palliate for a short time, or drive the disease to the lungs. It produces a perfect and permanent cure of the worst cases of Chronic Catarrh. "Cold in the head" cured with a few applications. Catarrh Headache relieved and cured as if by magic. It removes offensive breath, loss or impairment of the sense of taste, smell or hearing, watering or weakness of the eyes, and impaired memory, when resulting from catarrh. Only 50 cents, by druggists.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT.

Entered at the post-office at Frankfort, Kentucky as second-class mailable matter.

W. A. LEWIS, Editor and Publisher.

FRANKFORT, DEC. 5, 1891.

Goose-bone Weather.

Mr. Alfred B. Read has sent us the breast bone of a goose, requesting to know what it said about the weather, and from it we make the following predictions: The first few days of December will be cold, but the balance of the month will be mild and open until about the first of January, when cold weather sets in and grows steadily colder until the middle of the month, when it will become warmer gradually until about the first of February. February will be cold all through, from beginning to end, with the ground hard frozen. After writing the above we submitted the bone to two Goose-bone experts. One pronounced it a gander bone and no good, while the other said it was from a goose not fully matured. Well, it certainly was taken from a goose, and if a bone from a fully matured goose will give us any worse weather than the one we have predicts, then we hope all this year's crop of geese were killed early in the season.

The New Station Ready.

The new Station of the Kentucky Midland Railway is about ready, the track has been laid from the old Station on Clinton street to the new one on Broadway, and trains will begin running from the latter point on Monday. The old Conery residence will be fitted up for waiting rooms and ticket office, a new and convenient baggage room will be built just back of it, and a broad platform will be built from the new Station clear back to the main track near Clinton street.

It will be a vast improvement over the old arrangement.

Burned His Clothes.

Mr. J. B. Utterback's little boy got out of bed Thursday morning, gathered up his clothes in his arms and went to the mantle to get a button hook, with the intention of going into another room to dress. In reaching up after the hook his clothing took fire from the grate. He had presence of mind to drop the clothing and thus escaped injury from the flames, but the clothes were destroyed and the carpet badly burned.

Found Dead.

Old Aunt Julia Ann Smith, a well-known old colored woman, was found dead in her room on Church street about 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. It is supposed that she had been dead since the night before. She was a member of the Baptist Church, and had many friends in this city, both white and colored.

All a Mistake.

The rumor that the Athletic Club would close their rooms and the organization be broken up is all a mistake, as new members are constantly joining the Club, new improvements will be put in and the rooms have just been released for three years longer. A Brussels carpet has been ordered for the reading room, the club is in good condition financially and is a fixture in Frankfort, all talk to the contrary notwithstanding.

A Former Frankfort Lady to Wed.

Miss Sue Bush, daughter of Hon. W. P. D. Bush, formerly of this city, and Mr. Will Caldwell will be quietly married at the home of the bride's parents in Louisville, on the 23rd of this month.

Six O'clock Tea.

Mrs. O. R. Crutcher gave a 6 o'clock dinner Saturday evening in honor of her guests, Misses Berdelle Bedford, of this county, and Pattie Moore, of Georgetown. Messrs. Anderson, of Cincinnati, and the Messrs. Stege, of Louisville, were present.

Commendable.

All claims not consistent with the high character of Syrup of Figs are purposely avoided by the Cal. Fig Syrup Company. It acts gently on the kidneys, liver and bowels, cleansing the system effectually, but it is not a cure-all and makes no pretensions that every bottle will not substantiate. 13-1m.

Will Wed next Month.

Mr. Cliff Shropshire, of Lexington, and Miss Willie Robb will be married on the 6th of January, at the home of the bride's parents near Ducker Station.

Mr. Sam D. Johnson, of this city, and Miss Margaret Martin, will also be married next month at the home of the bride in Lexington.

Nominated for Clerk.

Mr. Jack Bradley, a gentleman well-known in this city, where he served as a U. S. gauger under the Cleveland administration, has been nominated by the Democratic party as a candidate for Circuit Clerk of Scott county. The election does not take place until December, 1892, and Jack will have plenty of time in which to "see the boys."

Forty Hours Devotion.

Forty hours devotion commenced at the Church of the Good Shepherd on Monday morning and closed Wednesday. The services were in charge of Rev. W. E. Gorey, who was assisted by Fathers Jones, of Mt. Sterling; Realy, of Winchester; Redmond, of Realy; Donnelly, of Cynthia; McGinley, of White Sulphur; Jas. Gorey, of Covington, and Van Troosterberg, of Lexington.

Gone to Edgelyville.

Mr. Z. J. Montgomery has resigned his position as Secretary and Treasurer of the Safety Vault and Trust Company, and Secretary of the Kentucky Investment and Building Association, and has gone to Edgelyville to take the position of general manager for Messrs. Mason & Ford Company, lessors of the convict labor in the Branch Penitentiary at that place. Mr. Vernon L. Clark, who has been General Ticket Agent and Auditor of the Kentucky Midland Railroad since it commenced operations, has been tendered and accepted the position made vacant by the resignation of Mr. Montgomery and has entered upon the discharge of his duties.

Mr. A. D. Smith is temporarily filling the position made vacant by the retirement of Mr. Clark at the Midland office.

Gone to His New Home.

Mr. J. Andrew Cain left Monday for Versailles to take charge of the interest he recently purchased in a mill at that place. The mill has a capacity of seventy-five barrels per day, has all the latest improved machinery in operation and the capacity can easily be increased.

Mr. Cain is a thoroughly competent miller of long experience and will give the people of Versailles a first class article of flour. We take pleasure in recommending him to the people of that place as an upright honorable gentleman, and wish him abundant success in his new enterprise.

His family will join him there in a few days.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT

FRANKFORT, DEC. 5, 1921.

Letter from D. Meade Woodson.

GLASGOW, VA.

Editor Roundabout:
One long year has rolled around since I landed in this beautiful valley of the historic James river, as a point where the same is confronted with the North river, and where both, in the great cycle of past ages, have hewn their restless way through the famous Blue Ridge mountains, thus forming the only available gap for the benefit of commerce, in a manner, throughout the whole range.

Nestled at this spot is the new city of Glasgow, with its environs of railroads, mountains of iron ore, minerals of other kinds and nature's beauties. Nature has done much for this spot as a site for a busy city, some day may be in the future, for, like all the other boom towns of the South, it has, for a time, at least, succumbed to the great financial panic following immediately on the heels of the banking failure in London. The depression following that disastrous upheaval seemed to catch the impulse of the electric current which flashed the news of the world-wide manner of energy seems to have been totally eclipsed ever since.

Some of the leading, practical, business men of the time, however, claim that while it is not natural to suppose that all booming towns are destined to become flourishing cities, that the majority of them that are, advantageously and relatively located to the sources of buried mineral wealth in the tributaries of the James river, are bound to develop; that they are only a few years ahead of time and that Glasgow and Big Stone Gap are among them.

The James river, from Richmond to its source, is very rapid and tortuous in its course, and very near the entire distance was once under a system of locks and dams, and the water made no canal service. This and other canal systems engulfed in the sea have been rid. Many views of this river are truly enchanting, and I am prepared to say it is the cleanest, the most beautiful, and that is at the Shanandoah Valley R. R., at one of the most charming spots on this river, and just two and one-half miles from it, interiorly or nearly at a right angle course from the direction of the river, is the world famous Natural Bridge. It is about four miles drive from the upper edge of this town. I made my first visit there about a month ago.

I can not say that I was disappointed, for I had somewhat a preconceived idea of the magnitude of the bridge and its environs. I had never seen Pike's Peak, looming up nearly 300 miles distant; if I had never crossed the Rocky Mountains over Marshall's pass at a height of 10,800 feet, and seen a peak beside it towering over 4,000 feet still higher; if I hadn't dived with a train through a tunnel two miles long in the Stampede pass in the Cascade Mountains and there beheld the eternal snow caps of Mt. Ranier miles above the clouds; if I hadn't beheld the Black Canyon of the Gunnison and the Royal Gorge on the Denver and Rio Grande R. R., with their towering precipitous walls thousands of feet above, and the river beds hundreds of feet below, then I might have said Natural Bridge was something more than a mere curiosity. But having seen such incomparably grander heights I can only say it is one of the grandest natural curiosities of the world. Time alone has wrought this wonder and it alone will ever destroy it. The shape of the space underneath is similar to that of a colossal arch, and 160 feet high and proportioned otherwise accordingly. To this shape is due the fact men have been enabled to climb to certain heights and carry their names. Any man who had the nerve and intrepidity to climb to such a dizzy and perilous height, with that awful chasm yawning below him, as the place pointed out to me as having been attained by George Washington, would have the nerve to cross a dozen Delawares in flows of ice and camp in a dozen Valley Forges in drifts of snow, would do so with an army any where or under any circumstances, and could be entrusted to fight British, Indians or Turks.

The most wonderful features of this great arch are the figures of the American Eagle with outstretched wings and head poised, just as you see him on the old river, and a crouching lion and the profile rocks.

The eagle and lion are at the very top and center of the arch on the flat surface underneath, and 160 feet above. In looking up it reminds me of such figures in hearth rugs. They are embodied and outlined by discolored, caused not only by seepage or continual moisture. The profiles are those of an old man and a young maid, representing old age and youth, I suppose.

The latter is so perfect as to lack no definition of features. Even a modern hat bedecked her finely head and a bow graces her throat. She is a perfect type of a modern belle. Her profile is shown in bold relief against the clear sky. About 100 feet up, viewed from a certain point in the river bed on the upper side of the bridge. This locates her on the lower right hand side of the bridge wall.

So wonderful are these collective curiosities that I would not have been surprised to see a profile of Washington himself.

The bridge and property attached is a perfect bonanza to the owner, yes, better than a silver mine. Streams of people are going and coming all the time. There is only one entrance to the valley, and that through an office, and the entrance fee is fifty cents. There are two large, modern style hotels, and some elegant residences, a large ball-room, with balconies, etc.

A band of music is engaged every year for the summer season. You can imagine what a resort it is for tourists.

I gleaned a description and bit of history of it while there, which, in substance, is as follows: "It approaches Niagara in grandeur, excels it in awful mystery. It is a single block of stone (lime) with many shades of color, wide enough to span Broadway in New York, high enough to throw in shadow the turrets of Trinity Church; in height from the stream below to the surface of the arch 215 feet; average breadth of top 80 feet; length of top 93 feet; thickness of arch 55 feet; from stream to arch under 160 feet. The walls are as if cut with chisels, and there is no sign of displacement. Under it men look like boys, and trees like bushes."

The earliest mention of the bridge is by Barnaby, in 1580, who speaks of it as a natural arch or bridge, joining two high mountains with a considerable river underneath.

A bloody Indian fight occurred here in 1776. Arrows, hearth, fragments of pottery, pipes, etc., are found in the fields and roads of the neighborhood. Lightning struck the bridge in a place, and hurled down an immense mass of rock. Washington, when a surveyor for Lord Fairfax, visited at and carved his name here.

During the revolution the French organized two expeditions to visit it. From their measurements and diagrams a plan was made in Paris which, for nearly half a century was copied in Europe and America as correct. This plan was much visited in the early part of this century. Marshall, Monroe, Clay, Benton, Jackson, Van Buren, Houston and others registered here.

The bridge and 157 acres of land were granted by George the 3d to Thos. Jefferson in 1714. Marshall wrote of it as the greatest miracle in stone. Clay of the bridge not made with hands, that spans a river, carries a highway, and makes two mountains one.

But none of those distinguished men had ever seen the wonders of the wild and woolly west. Two or three years ago a large square rock, weighing about 20 tons, fell from lower edge at top of arch. I looked up and saw the cavity from which it had been dislodged by the force of gravity, and it seemed like a bushel basket would fill it.

Pulpit Rock is another conspicuous feature, but the slow disintegration of its base by the action of freezes and thaws, will some day, not far in the future, hurl it down to its dismal home in the layers below, and we to the passers-by who happen there, for great will be the downfall.

It is about 60 feet high and about 15 feet thick, and viewed from one point, looks like it is hanging by a mere thread so to speak. Its top is about a foot above the highest spring of the arch.

Nothing seems to deter fool-hardy people from standing out on its very pinnacle in order to get a good view of the arch and depths below.

A county road crosses the bridge and it would be easy for a stranger to drive over it and never know he was on it.

One-fourth mile above the bridge, in the same valley or gorge, is what is called the old river or whispering well. About 50 feet up on the mountain side, above the bed of the river which flows through and under the bridge, is a cavernous opening. Peering in, you see, 10 feet or more from the opening, a gushing, cold, foaming stream, and we to the same direction as the first named stream.

Over the entrance on a board is posted the following: "He who drinks here will return;" said originally to have been put there by Thos. Jefferson, the first owner of the Bridge property. Its outlet has never been discovered, though, they have tried all means.

I was told, but cannot vouch for the truth of it, that a few years ago, a drummer sealed a note in a bottle, set it afloat in there and requested the finder to notify him by mail where it was found. Some eight months after he got an answer from France saying it was found floating in the Gulf of Lyons. It is possible that Joe Mulhatten was around there.

While Natural Bridge is such a wonder, Natural Tunnel in S. W. Va. is no less a curiosity. The trains of the South Atlantic and Ohio R. R. go thundering through there in a distance of about 900 feet in pretty much such a gorge as Natural Bridge is located, the only difference is that the arch is not near so high.

I was on my way, a few weeks ago, from Big Stone Gap to Roanoke, via The Norfolk and Western R. R. which traverses the Clinch river valley to its headwaters. This is one of the boldest pieces of engineering I have seen outside of the Rocky mountains.

It is impossible to describe or conceive of the roughness of the country along this route. So numerous and high are the tunnels that they keep the lights burning in coaches in broad day. It is hard to understand how a civilized race can prosper in such a region. Even here in Rockbridge county, the home of Lexington, a seat of learning, I cannot see how the people prosper. I was at the top of South mountain some weeks ago and got almost a full view of the entire county and saw a lot of the poorest farms a crow ever flew over. Surely the farmers of Kentucky can have nothing to be despondent over.

I was up there making a survey for a tramway line from the summit to the Shanandoah valley R. R., a distance of about 11 miles and an altitude of over 1200 feet above R. R. bed. Upon the very top of this mountain is an enormous outcropping of iron ore which analysis shows to contain 68 per cent. pure hematite iron. It belongs to the Glasgow Development Company, for whom I am working, and is 18 miles from here on South river.

At a rough estimate there are not less than 600,000 tons, and all available in open cuts. The tramway cars they will work by gravity and it will cost them about 10 cents per ton to convey to the railroad, exclusive of the cost of running, which is merely nominal.

The Blue Ridge mountains are full to overflowing in mineral wealth. There are a great many destitute people along their slopes, too. Visiting a clearing this summer high up on the reach of killing frosts, I accosted the tenant and quizzed him as to his success of fruit growing, and as to his success of fruit growing, and among other things asked him what kinds of cherries prospered with him. His answer was that all kinds did well but the gorrilla did the best. I beat a hasty retreat.

There are some more places of note I would like to visit before leaving the Old Dominion but fear I cannot.

Albermarle county is the home of Jefferson and Monroe.

At Monticello you can stand and see the home of Monroes.

Eight miles from Charlottesville is the home of a Mr. Browning, who purchased a few years ago an old-fashioned country home with quaint and antiquated house of yore old times, but in a state of remarkable preservation. It is two stories high and in some respects has been remodeled.

Now comes the strange facts connected with it. In a window, which have never been disturbed, are the perfect photographs of an old man standing under looking at an elderly lady, with spectacles on, sitting at the window reading a book, and a black and white spotted cat sitting on the back of a high-backed window and the cat in another room.

They are so perfect that the cat shows black and white and some people declare that the color around her neck is a blue colored ribbon. Her photo shows a side view.

They all look like the negatives on glass in a photograph studio, precisely, but are full life size and can be seen only from the outside. They were evidently taken during a thunder storm in day time.

This is food for scientists. Hundreds of people have visited the place and the proprietor gets numerous letters of inquiry concerning them.

I attended the ceremonies of the investing of the Jackson Stone and visited the tombs of both the fallen chieftains. I saw Gen. Lee's office with everything just as he left it the last time he ever closed the door behind him. They keep it locked and you can only see in there by looking through the window. One of his nephews has been my assistant here in this work and I find him every kind a gentleman. On that occasion I saw the remains of the old Stonewall Brigade, Pickett's Division and other noted Brigades all in marching columns. The crutched and armless men were conspicuous and I tell you it was enough to make one thrill with enthusiasm and his blood throb with involuntary impulses to see the old battles re-enacted, and I need not say no further evidence of past deeds of heroism and bravery.

Perils of Modern Life.

Contacts with electric wires, railroad accidents, broken car and elevator cables, explosions of steam, natural gas and chemicals, poisons in adulterated food and drink, are a few; but all these dangers combined do not kill as rapidly as slow and sure Consumption. The death rate, however, from Consumption, is being yearly cut down since Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., has given to the world his celebrated "Golden Medical Discovery," a cure for Consumption and Throat and Lung troubles that lead to Consumption, if taken in time and given a fair trial. The time to cure Consumption (which is really nothing more nor less than Lung-scurf), is in the first stages. A cough generally sounds the alarm, and you should take the "Discovery" at once. There is a time when it is too late.

JACK AND JILL:—There are various accounts as to how the man got into the moon. A common one with us is that he was banished for having been detected by Moses in the act of gathering sticks on the Sabbath. In German legend he committed the same offense, and was given the alternative of being scorched in the sun or frozen in the moon. In Icelandic myth the man becomes the two children familiarly known as Jack and Jill, who were kidnapped by the moon. There we see them stand with bucket or pole across their shoulders, falling away, one after the other, as the moon wanes. And so it is that "Jack fell down and broke his crown, And Jill came tumbling after."

Now, just so sure does disease wane under the influence of S. S. S. The difference being, however, that Jack and Jill never go up the hill any more in the latter case, the eradication of diseases by the medicine being complete and permanent. SOL SMITH RUSSELL AS HOSEA HOWE.

An audience far above the average in numbers and fashion greeted Mr. Russell at the Grand last night. As for the distinguished comedian, he was, of course, excellent, and of the performance of which he was the central figure it may be declared a positive delight to have witnessed it. It was like the air upon the mountain-top, fresh, pure and invigorating. The piece, of course, was intended merely as a vehicle for the display of Mr. Russell's peculiar abilities, but in the hands of so skillful a playwright as Mr. Kidder, it has become something more, and although the comedian is given due prominence throughout, still the other characters have not been dwarfed in the growth, and all stand out with full roundness and give a completed whole that is as fair and sweet a pastoral as has ever been penned by modern maker of plays. The part of Hosea Howe fits Mr. Russell like a glove, giving him every opportunity for the display of peculiar comic talents, with a nice blending of pathos here and there that comes as a pleasant relief to the seeming plethora of fun.

In the first act you are treated to a view of the Ayrton House, the peaks of the White Mountains in the distance, farms and country hamlets dotting the hills in the middle of the picture, the top of Hosea Howe's cottage peeping above the nearest hill in the foreground.

In the second act the author depicts the home life of Hosea. Here, amidst the humbler of rural surroundings, he is actuated by the highest hopes and aspirations. In this scene we have the gaunt, ungainly, raw-boned youth, devoted to his mother, but yet a great student in his own peculiar way; a youth who knows his natural history as well as how to guide aside hill plow, a gentle nature at all times, although, in the language of the street, one of the country's best examples of a "ruben."

The company gives excellent support to the star, Miss Minnie Radloff playing an engaging role delightfully. Miss Belmont gives a consistent portrayal of a Southern girl. Miss Chantore has a difficult and unsympathetic part in Martha Howe, but plays it in an artistic and studied manner. Messrs. Brandt, Byron and Vroom are still artists above the average found in supporting companies.

If you like pathos, go and see "Peaceful Valley." Rare as the article is there is plenty of it in this charming play. When Sol Smith Russell told how Hosea sought his sister in a New York dive and told her story to the auld creatures there, and how, when he had finished, the women were all on their knees and the men had slunk out, there were many tearful eyes in the theater last night, and their owners not all women and not all aunts. Large audiences will be seen at the Grand this week.—Cincinnati Commercial Gazette.

All the functional irregularities and weaknesses that make life miserable to women, are cured by it. It's a powerful, invigorating tonic, and a soothing and strengthening nerve—purely vegetable, perfectly harmless. For ulcerations, displacements, bearing-down sensations, unnatural discharges—everything that's known as a "female complaint"—it's a positive remedy. It's the only one that's guaranteed to give satisfaction in every case. It costs you nothing, unless it helps you. You can afford to try it, on these terms. Can you afford to neglect it?

The Most Successful Remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. Read proof below:

Kendall's Spavin Cure.

LITTLE ROCK, ARK., Aug. 24, '90.
Dr. R. J. Kendall, Col.: Please—In the year 1881 I treated with Kendall's Spavin Cure a horse spavin of seven years standing nearly as large as a horse egg and completely stopped the lameness and removed the enlargement. Have since had no more spavins. I have cured many horses that have worked on sore shins and without your Liniment would be worthless. I have friends who need it for sprains and Bruises and cured them. They say it is the best they ever used. Yours truly, F. R. COOLEY.

BAKING POWDER FACTS.

Brought out by the Official Government Tests.

From Chicago Tribune.

The public is always responsive to suggestions about the food it eats. Great interest has been taken in the investigations made by the United States and Canadian governments and by the different boards of health to show the purity or impurity of milk, baking powders, spices, and other articles of daily use in the culinary departments of our household. Just now the subject of baking powder is claiming public attention. We all desire pure and wholesome bread and this cannot be had with the use of impure or poisonous baking powder. There can be no longer any question that all the cheaper lower grades of baking powders contain either alum, lime or phosphoric acid.

The official analyses of the United States and Canadian governments have therefore been studied with interest and have pretty clearly established the facts upon this subject. The United States government report gives the names of eighteen well-known powders, some of them advertised as pure cream of tartar baking powders, that contain alum.

The report shows that the Royal baking powder was found the highest in leavening strength, evolving 160.6 cubic inches of gas per single ounce of powder. There were eight other brands of cream of tartar powders tested and their average strength was 111.4 cubic inches of gas per ounce of powder.

The Canadian government investigations were of a still larger number of powders. The Royal baking powder was here also shown the purest and highest in strength, containing 129.32 cubic inches of leavening gas per ounce of powder. Nine other cream of tartar powders were tested, their average strength being reported to be 89 cubic inches of gas per ounce.

These figures are very instructive to the practical housekeeper. They indicate that the Royal baking powder goes more than 33 per cent. further in use than the others, or is one-third more economical. Still more important than this, however, they prove this popular article has been brought to the highest degree of purity for its superlative purity this superiority in strength is due—and consequently that by its use we may be assured the purest and most wholesome food.

The powders of lower strength are found to leave large amounts of inert matters in the bread. This fact is emphasized by the report of the Ohio State Food Commissioner, who, while finding the Royal practically pure, found no other powder to contain less than 10 per cent. of inert or foreign matters.

The public interest in this question has likewise caused to be made investigations by our local authorities. Prof. W. S. Haines, of Rush Medical College, consulting chemist of the Chicago Board of Health, has found results similar to those reported by the national and Canadian authorities.

Dr. Haines says: RUSH MEDICAL COLLEGE, CHICAGO, ILL. I have recently obtained samples of the chief baking powders in the market, and have subjected them to careful chemical examination to determine their purity, wholesomeness and leavening power. As the result of my test I find the Royal baking powder superior to all the others in every respect. It is entirely free from all adulteration and unwholesome impurity, and in baking it gives off a greater volume of leavening gas than any other powder. It is therefore not only the purest, but also the strongest powder with which I am acquainted.

Consulting Chemist, Chicago Board of Health.

The statistics show that there is used in the manufacture of the Royal baking powder more than half of all the cream of tartar consumed in the United States for all purposes. The wonderful sale thus indicates for the Royal baking powder—greater than that of all other baking powders combined—is perhaps even a higher evidence than that already quoted of the superiority of this article, and of its indispensableness to modern cookery.

Oh, What a Cough.

Will you heed the warning; the silent menace of the great approach of that more terrible disease Consumption? Ask yourself if you can afford, for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves croup and whooping cough at once. Mothers, do not be without it. For lame back, side or chest use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by J. W. GAYLE.

A DUTY TO YOURSELF.

It is surprising that people will use a common, ordinary pill when they can secure a valuable English one for the same money. Dr. Acker's English pills are a positive cure for sick headache and all liver troubles. They are small, sweet, easily taken, and do not gripe.

Lost in New York.

Howard Grove's great aquatic drama "Lost in New York" will be presented, for the first time in this city, at the Opera House next Monday evening, Dec. 7th. The play has been pronounced one of the strongest of American plays, and is certainly a novelty for our theatre goers. The entire stage is covered with a river of real water, 80 feet long, 40 feet wide and 4 feet deep, containing over 50,000 gallons of water. This body of water is used to represent the East river and real yachts, ferries and a genuine steamboat that carries a score of passengers and runs at the rate of 15 miles an hour, up upon the bosom of this river. Two carloads of special scenery are used in this production and includes the mansion of the Albramaries, Gramercy Square, showing the residence of the late Sam'l. J. Tilden, Randall's Island insane asylum and New York harbor at night, with the city in the distance illuminated. The same company that appeared in the great production of this play at the Bijou Theatre, New York, and Woolley's Theatre, Chicago, will be seen here and will include Gus Pixley, John Archer, W. F. Canfield, Harry C. Todd, Wm. Ballert, E. A. June, Louise Salloway, Adelaide Colton, Henrietta Scott, Annie Eager, Baby Lillian Spencer and others. This will undoubtedly be the scenic and realistic event of the season. Seats are now on sale at Barrett's.

Consumption.

The most to be dreaded of all diseases often begins in a simple cold, simply neglected. No cough should be allowed to run a single day without using the finest remedy in the world, Dr. Hale's Household Cough Cure. It acts like magic, strengthening the lungs, allaying all irritation and cures a cough where all other remedies fail. 25 and 50c. per bottle at Carpenter's South Side Drug Store.
